THE world faces the greatest live stock famine in all history. War has swept millions and millions of horses, cattle, swine and sheep into the fire. It is estimated conservatively that there are nearly 75,000,000 less farm animals now than in 1914. It is to help in checking this famine that such generous premiums for live stock are being offered by the Tennessee State Fair, Nashville, September 14 to 21.

State Supt. Sherrill Addresses Large Crowd.

State Superintendent, W. S. Sherrill, of Nashville, spoke to a large and attentive audience here Tuesday afternoon. Supt. Sherrill is a man that is truly interested in the education of the boys and girls in Tennessee, and the message that he brought us this week, should be pondered well. He has given about 30 years of his life to school work and knows whereof he speaks. It was the general opinion that the address was the best ever delivered here along educational lines.

Resolutions Adopted By Teachers.

Resolved, that we the teachers of Jackson county heartily endorse the action of Representative W. A. Overton in the last General Assembly pertaining to the school laws of the state, and the stand he so earnestly took against the first Dunlap bill, which would have greatly affected the weak or rural counties of the state.

Resolved further, that this resolution be published in the Jackson County Sentinel.

STOCK FARM FOR SALE

Monday, Sept. 23, 1918

AT 2 O'CLOCK P. M.

For the purpose of division, the undersigned will sell to the highest and best bidder, on the above date, the John Burr Wilson Farm, known as the Cherry Heigh's Stock Farm.

This farm is located in the 13th Civil District of Smith County, Tennessee, five and one half miles from Carthage, two miles from Rome, and about three quarters of a mile from Rock City. It lies within a few hundred yards of the Lebanon and Carthage pike, along which the new Highway has been routed. A church and school house are within one half mile, and two rural routes pass by daily.

There are 160 acres, more or less in this farm, 50 acres of which are now under cultivation and the remainder in blue grass lots, the equal of any to be found anywhere. The whole farm is well fenced with rock and wire fence. Of the grass land, fully one half is tillable. The water supply for stock on this farm is unexcelled. Two everlasting springs furnish water the year round and Plunkett's Creek runs by the gate. Practically all the land now under cultivation borders this creek.

Two houses are on the place. One large, two story, eight-room house with double porches full length, beautifully situated on a rise commanding a view of the surrounding country, including the Carthage road and most of the farm. A fine well within ten feet of the house supplies an abundance of cold water for drinking and household purposes. The other house is a two-room tenant house about three hundred yards from the dwelling, with a fine spring a few yards away. A nice young orchard of apple and peach trees lies between the two houses.

There are two good barns and all necessary outhouses on the place. One of the barns is an unusually large stock barn with room for feeding and caring for a large amount of live stock. This barn has a good wood and metal roof and is equipped with a good hayfork.

This place is one of the best arranged stock farms to be found in the state, with a large acreage of the very best blue grass available and an abundance of water the year round. All kinds of live stock can be raised and handled with the greatest convenience.

Any one looking for the combination of a money making place and a home with all the best advantages in one of the best communities in the state, will do well to investigate this place before investigating elsewhere.

For information regarding the above property, call or write either of the following.
